PRIVACY POLICY

EFFECTIVE DATE: 8 OCTOBER 2026

Odds Ace collects only what it needs to run your subscription and send your alerts, never sells your data, and never shares it with bookmakers.

1. Who we are

Tony Chalhoub (ABN 38 722 496 289), trading as Odds Ace Australia, 52 Hargreaves Street, Huntingdale VIC 3166. We follow the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth), even where, as a small business, the Act may not require us to. Privacy questions: info@oddsaceaustralia.com.

2. What we collect

- Your email address, and your first name if you give it.
- Your confirmation that you're 18 or over and live in Australia.
- A record of when you signed up, which plan you chose and whether you've had a free trial.
- Your plan, payment status and billing history. Our payment processor holds your card details; we never see your full card number.
- Your Telegram name, username and account ID (to let you into the members' channel and take you out when your membership ends), and any messages you send us.
- If you tell us you've self-excluded or want a break from gambling, a note of that, so we don't sign you up again or contact you.
- Basic technical data when you visit our website, such as your IP address and browser type.

We don't ask for sensitive information. Never send us your bookmaker logins or passwords; we will never ask for them.

3. How we use it

- To send the alerts you asked for.
- To run your subscription, billing and support.
- About a week after you join, to check everything is working for you. It doesn't ask for a review, and we don't send it if you've cancelled.
- To keep records of your sign-up and age confirmation.
- To improve Odds Ace, using combined statistics rather than individual profiles.
- To comply with the law and prevent misuse.

We only send marketing emails with your consent, and you can unsubscribe at any time.

4. Who we share it with

- Service providers that run parts of Odds Ace for us: Whop (payments); Telegram (alerts); Netlify (our website host); Cloudflare (Web Analytics, which counts visits to our website); GitHub (which supplies the latest results to the website); Zoho Mail (our email provider); Google (Gmail and Google Sheets, which we use to email your Telegram invite and keep our member list); and Anthropic, whose AI assistant Claude helps us run the business and may see your details when it helps us look after member accounts. Whop and Telegram also handle your information under their own privacy policies, because you have accounts with them, and so does Trustpilot if you choose to review us there.
- Our professional advisers, such as a lawyer or accountant, when needed.
- Government agencies or law enforcement, when the law requires it.

We don't sell or rent personal information. We never share it with bookmakers or any other wagering provider.

5. Storage outside Australia

Some of our providers store data outside Australia: Whop, Netlify, Cloudflare, GitHub, Google and Anthropic in the United States (Cloudflare also handles visit data in its data centres around the world), and Telegram in data centres in several countries. Our business email is kept in Zoho Mail's Australian data centre; Telegram invites are emailed through Google's Gmail. Before using a provider, we take reasonable steps to check it protects personal information to a standard similar to the APPs, but overseas providers aren't bound by the Privacy Act.

6. Security and how long we keep it

- We use reputable providers, unique passwords and two-factor authentication, and only people who need access have it.
- We keep your details while you're a customer.
- After you cancel or unsubscribe, we keep your email address on a do-not-email list so you aren't contacted again, and keep your sign-up record for 2 years.
- If you've told us you've self-excluded or want a break from gambling, we keep a note of that for as long as we run Odds Ace, so we don't sign you up or contact you again.
- We keep billing records for 5 years for tax purposes, then delete or de-identify them.

7. Your choices and rights

- Unsubscribe: use the link in any marketing email, or reply "stop" to any other email from us. We action it within 5 business days, usually straight away.
- Reviews: we never pass your details to a review site. Whether you review us on one, such as Trustpilot, is entirely your choice.
- Access and correction: email us and we'll respond within 30 days.
- Deletion: ask us to delete your account. We'll delete what we can, keeping only what the law requires (such as billing records) and the notes that stop us contacting you again.
- Pseudonyms: you can use a made-up name, but we need a working email address and a card to run your plan.

8. Under 18s

Odds Ace is for adults only. If we learn we hold information about someone under 18, we delete it.

9. Cookies and analytics

Our website doesn't set cookies or use advertising trackers. We count visits with Cloudflare Web Analytics, which uses no cookies and doesn't track individual visitors: it gives us totals, such as how many visits each page gets. The website also loads fonts from Google Fonts and the latest results from GitHub, and our host keeps standard server logs that include IP addresses. Checkout runs on Whop, which uses its own cookies under its own privacy policy. You can block or delete cookies in your browser settings.

10. Complaints

Email us first at info@oddsaceaustralia.com and we'll respond within 30 days. If you're not satisfied, the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (oaic.gov.au) can tell you your options.

11. Changes to this policy

We'll post any changes on this page and email customers about material changes.

18+ only. Odds Ace is an independent wagering-market analytics service, not a bookmaker. It's information, not betting advice.
